A Symposium Sponsored by the Research Cluster on Imperial, Colonial and Transnational Histories

Opening of Symposium: Professor Vanessa Lemm, Head of School, School of Humanities & Languages.

Session 1 - Rethinking and Critiquing the Family
Chair: Associate Professor Nicholas Doumanis, History Convenor
1. Dr. Stefania Bernini, Communist Families in Postwar Europe: East and West.
2. Associate Professor Mina Roces, Migration and the Rethinking of the Filipino Family Over the Long Twentieth Century.

Morning Tea

Session 2 - Fashioning and Refashioning Family Structures
Chair: Professor David Cahill, co-leader, Research Cluster on Imperial, Colonial and Transnational Histories.
5. Dr. Geoff Nathan, Empire and the Mediterranean Family Model. Extended kin in the experiences of Ausonius and Libanius.
6. Dr. Peter Ross, The State and the Family in Contemporary Latin America.

Lunch

Roundtable Discussion with our invited scholars from Sydney University and Macquarie University on “Doing Research on the Family in Imperial, Colonial and Transnational Histories”
Chair: Associate Professor Mina Roces, co-leader, Research Cluster on Imperial, Colonial and Transnational Histories.
Discussants/Rapporteurs: Professor Sheila Fitzpatrick, The University of Sydney and Dr Tanya Evans, Macquarie University.

Afternoon tea and close

* Participants will need to register for the event with Mina Roces m.roces@unsw.edu.au by September 2, 2013.